MECHANICAL/ARTWORK REQUIREMENTS

- The Cascade Courier is printed in black, plus one spot color that changes monthly. If you wish to design your ad using the spot color, please contact the editor in advance to find out what color ink will be used for the month of your ad. If you wish to use the same ad over multiple months, you must provide a new version using the new spot color.
- Advertisement artwork must be submitted camera-ready.
- We prefer grayscale EPS files or PDF files set up for Press quality output.
- Resolution of 300dpi is required for best reproduction quality.
- We do not accept Microsoft Word, Publisher, Power-Point, Quark or Corel Draw files
- Files should be set up using grayscale color mode. No RGB or CMYK.
- Avoid using JPEGs and GIFs due to poor reproduction quality.
- Files must contain no embedded fonts. Convert all fonts to paths/outlines.
- Photography should be at least 200 dpi (300 dpi preferred), grayscale images only.
- Files must be submitted at 100% of their final printed size.
- When designing your ad, keep in mind that it will be printed on newsprint, which has a 20% dotgain in the midtone range.
- Files may be sent via email to the above address.
- Important note: All advertisements for bicycle events must require helmets. We suggest the following language: "Helmets approved by CPSC, SNELL, ASTM or SNSI are required for this event."
- If the above requests are not met and additional work is required by Cascade Courier Staff, a fee of $50/hour will be charged in order to prepare your advertisement.

Prices effective as of October 2011.
